Join the Health Professionals for Diversity Coalition

Health Professionals for Diversity (HPD) is a coalition of organizations that believe that diversity in the health professions is crucial for protecting and promoting the health of the nation. In 2005, the HPD Coalition is launching a campaign to inform policy makers, opinion makers, and the public about the importance of diversity in the health-professions workforce.

We invite organizations committed to building a health-professions workforce that draws on the strengths of all segments of our society to join the coalition.
